NOTICE

Messrs. CARRUTH & BROWN are hereby appointed as our agents in Memphis to solicit advertisements for the BULLETIN, and are also authorized to collect and give receipts therefor in our name.

MILLER & PARRISH.

M. C. R. R.—Trains on this road leave Bolivar for Grand Junction every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 12 M. Returning same days, leave Grand Junction at 2 P. M. At the latter place close connection is made with passenger and freight trains on the southern division of the road that go through to Canton, and there connect with trains to and from New Orleans direct. Time from Bolivar to New Orleans, 33 hours. Connection is also made with trains on the Memphis and Charleston road running east and west of the Junction.

I. O. O. F.—Bolivar Lodge No. 27, I. O. O. F., meets every Tuesday night. Officers for present term:

Wm. Montgomery, N. S.; W. H. Carruth, V. G.; J. G. Fleming, R. S.; T. A. Osborn, P. S.; A. S. Coleman, T. R. G. Crawford, W. J. Neely, R. S. to N. G.; R. H. Walton, L. S. to N. G.; J. J. Neely, W. G.; H. W. Powell, L. S. to N. G.; R. P. Parrish, L. S. to N. G.; J. T. Graham, R. S. to V. G.; R. L. Fobes, L. S. to V. G.; R. G. Crawford, D. G. M.

Worth encampment, No. 16, I. O. O. F., meets at Odd Fellows Hall on the 1st and 3d Thursday nights of each month. Officers for the present term:

Our mails are about as regular as "the cows coming home." Sometimes they come, and sometimes they don't. It seems to be altogether a matter of chance. The mail, which should have been here last Thursday, has not made its appearance yet. Whose fault is it? Does it lie with the Route Agent at Junction, or with the R. R. Co.? Inform us somebody, but don't all speak at once.

R. G. Gist, postmaster at Memphis, can supply you with Revenue Stamps of all denominations and in any quantity.

PERSONAL.—R. S. Hardy, Esq., our Postmaster, has just returned from a business trip North. He has made arrangements for an immense stock of Spring goods. Mr. Hardy looks very hearty after his flying trip.

We request that all persons having claims against this office, or against us individually will send in their bills to date for settlement.

Harris, Moore & Co. have received an enormous stock of spring goods. They defy competition in prices, as their goods have been bought at first hand. They say, they will not allow any body to undersell them. Their woollen goods are sold at cost. Ladies don't fail to examine their stock.

For fancy articles, notions, etc., go to Harris, Moore & Co.

We thank the courteous M. Coats Esq. for late papers. He is always on hand with the latest. May he prosper, and never have occasion to go up Salt River.

We are also under obligations for similar papers to Mr. Wm. Harris.

J. E. Aiken returns thanks to all that voted for him at the recent election. He is of course sorry that he is beaten, but hopes the successful candidate will serve as well, as he wished to have done.

"Tup" Harris requests us to say that somebody stole the halter from him, that he is "broke," and has no four dollars to pay with, and has no friend who will trust him. Poor "Tup!" He can't take that trip on the Supper this evening.

For dress goods go to Harris, Moore & Co.

For guns, pistols, ammunition, and gun implements go to F. Glaschick & Co. No. 352 Front street, Memphis. These gentlemen keep the best in the gun line and you will surely be satisfied.

Look at the double column, and find the advertisement of Robeson, Mitchell & Co., clothiers, Ayres block, Memphis. Their stock of clothing, men's and boys', is unsurpassed by any in the South. We advise one and all to supply themselves, if they want good clothes at reasonable prices.

The new hardware house, in Jefferson block on Second street in Memphis, is a mammoth one. John H. Holenshaide & Co. is the name of this house. The senior partner was for many years engaged in the largest agricultural implement establishment in the country, and has supplied his house with every thing needful, as he knows the wants of the people, in his line. See their advertisement.

For groceries, liquors and tobacco go to Harris, Moore & Co.

AGRICULTURAL.—Miller & Shaw's agricultural warehouse in Memphis, No. 345, Second street, is probably the largest house of the kind in the South. They keep on hand the celebrated cast steel plows of Hall, Moore & Co's make as well as all kinds of Agricultural implements. Capt. Shaw is a gentleman whom one wishes to see often. And see him, if you want to buy tools and stock your plantations.

At Nos. 361 Main street, and 40 Monroe street, Memphis, Blood & Co., dispense all the essentials for making a cheap, and beautiful light. Besides, they have many useful articles in the house-keeping line. They keep kites, paints, zinc, tin, stoves, grates, lanterns, hardware, sheetiron ware, copper ware, etc.

For boots, shoes, hats and caps go to Harris, Moore & Co.

FOR SALT RIVER!!

And All Intermediate Ports

The veritable Ringtailed Squirrel and Salt River Roarer authorize us to say, that the low water packet, Suppressed Suffrage, will leave Bolivar Landing, "furnish the old steam mill," at 4 o'clock this P. M., punctual to the hour, for the port of Discontent, and all way point on Salt River.

The Suffrage was built by Arnold, Brownlow & Co., at Nashville, in 1865, of confiscated timber taken from the platform of popular rights, has tubular boilers, works horizontal pumps, "scapes in the wheel-house, and is insured by run people to bust," at an early day. As this is the last trip the bulky Suffrage will make, she has been placed under control of experienced officers, and will, no doubt, glide over the reflecting waves of that stream in which so many "devoted heads" have heretofore bathed their aching temples, or cleansed themselves of the dust and smoke incident to a hard fought battle. Enquire Anderson has furnished us with a list of the officers of the Suffrage, as follows: Master, T. H. Hancock; Clerks, Franklin and Shaw; Pilots, Thorne and Dorion; Ass't Pilots, Kenney and Justice; Surgeon, Black; Mate, Bray; Engineers, Gay and Aiken; Ass't Engineers, Dorris and Ammons; Steward, Duncan; Cook, Robley. For freight or passage apply on board, or to Enquire Anderson; office, on the west side of the public square. We understand that tickets for the excursion have been issued to McCauley, Harris, McDowell, Anderson, Pipkin, Watson, "ye Local" and several other distinguished gentlemen. John T. Graham will exhibit the celebrated nondescript yelp the "Wham-bum!" at the store of Adams, Neilson & Co. just before our departure of the Suffrage, in order that our departing heroes may have some pleasant recollections of home, when they shall become an hungred and athirst afar out upon the bosom of the Ringtail Squirrel's pride and boast.

For calicoes, prints and domestics go to Harris, Moore & Co.

THE MARKETS.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

Memphis, March 9, 1866.

The money market is in a very unsettled condition. The conflicting statements from New York, only make matters worse and leave us to grope in the dark.

Gold is still declining, notwithstanding the reported quotations of the New York market, and there is no disposition among the bankers to buy. We heard of one purchase at the counter of a small lot at 28, but this is probably below the true rates, but we find it very difficult to obtain a medium rate, and therefore quote it dull and drooping with 30 as the highest rates paid for it.

Currency is daily growing tighter, and its stringency is beginning to be felt in commercial circles.

Uncurrent Money.

These funds are more active than for the past week, but prices are unsteady, and a strong effort is being made to put down the rates, but some of the bankers see no reason for doing so, and refuse to join in the attempt. We therefore still quote as below:

Memphis Cotton Market.

Holders are less firm in their views, while buyers are scarce in the market. The noon dispatch from New York said "quiet and steady at 43-44c." The sales reported to-day are of small consequence. So little business was done that the quotations were merely nominal. There is some significance in the fact of these figures remaining while gold is falling so rapidly.

Groceries, Etc.

As will be seen below there has been considerable change since our last. Butter, Hay and Mess Pork have advanced, while Bacon and Corn have somewhat declined. The lower grades of Flour are in demand, but fancy brands are dull and heavy.

Attention.

The Adams Express Company, now known as the Southern Express Company, have a queer way of doing business. For instance, they receive freight at their office in Memphis, destined for this place, at two dollars per hundred; when the freight arrives here they charge three to three and a half dollars per hundred. Why don't you "stick to your bargain," Mr. Southern Express? We believe the fault rests with the Memphis office.

Just the opposite of this is the case with the Pioneer Express Company. They are honest, and collect only what they agree to charge.

Memphis papers please copy, as this is simply the truth and vouched for by the best men in Bolivar.

Let every body send for Gilbert & Higbee's Almanac for 1866. It contains, besides the ordinary things usually found in such books, a vast amount of entertaining and useful matter. Send for it, you will get it free on application by letter to Gilbert & Higbee, druggists, No. 281 Main street, Memphis.

If you want a nice suit of clothes go to Harris, Moore & Co.

We this day publish the advertisement of the firm of Swinebroad & Tate. Both of these gentlemen are well known in our community, so the few words we can say of them, will only confirm what every body already knows. The senior of the firm has been a merchant here for years, and his business capacity and urbanity as a gentleman are proverbial. J. W. Tate must be well known to most of our residents, as he was connected with one of the largest houses here before the war, and has now returned to his old "stamping ground." He will be found every thing any one could wish in a gentleman. Ladies you will do well to see their stock. Woollen goods at cost. Every body call.

Do you want photographs of yourselves children, wife, or sweetheart? Well, go to Test's Gallery over the tailor shop. Test takes pictures in all kinds of weather, cold or warm, rain or shine. He guarantees a good likeness, or no pay. His charges are low, only $3. per doz. for photographs and 50cts. each for ambrotypes. Go and see him.

Cotton.—If you want to "get your money back" send your cotton to Fowles & Steffy, successors to Fowles & Co., Jefferson street, between Main and Second, Memphis. Tom Adams is there and will do his "level best" for all who consign to Fowles & Steffy.

In the French Corps Legislatif, a draft of an address in response to a speech from the throne, expresses satisfactory assurance that the expedition to Mexico is to close, and the United States Government ought not to take umbrage at the presence of the French troops in Mexico, or render their recall dependent on anything but our own convenience.
